

Penny Arcade's Bad Reputation Proceeds Her: OC
Extends to Mar. 28
10-MAR-99

Imagine. Penny Arcade, the performer at the center of the Off-Broadway hit Bitch! Dyke Whore!, has developed a Bad Reputation. Her new show, which began a three-week engagement at P.S. 122 Mar. 4, has now extended a week to Mar. 28.

In Bad Reputation, Arcade takes a look at the lives of so-called "bad girls," including other notable scarlet women of international renown. Arcade muses on the "bad girl" stereotype and society's obsession with it. Though the piece is technically a solo show, a press statement says it would be "backed up by a scantily clad chorus of gyrating gay boys and eroticall bad girls."

Arcade -- nee Susana Ventura -- made her name in Bitch! Dyke!. Since then she has performed over North America and Europe.

For information on Bad Reputation call (212) 477-5288.

--By Robert Simonson